

What we do

We make high performance paints

Axalta Coating Systems has one aim: to make high-performance paints that benefit our customers. That's why our focus is on innovation, quality and service. As coating specialists for more than 150 years, we are passionate about making the coatings the market needs. For customers of our liquid industrial paints, that means delivering a wide range of colours, high performance, good coverage, durability and dazzling shine, as well as cutting-edge, sustainable technology and fast, reliable customer support.

Liquid Industrial Coatings is part of Axalta Coating Systems, a leading global coatings company dedicated solely to the development, manufacture and sale of liquid coatings. Our state-of-the-art products and services include colour matching tools, application technologies, customer training and business management systems.
